HCS7334 - Affective Neuroscience

HCS 7334 Affective Neuroscience (3 semester hours) Current studies and theories of the biological basis of emotion and affective behaviors. The interactions of emotional processes with other brain functions. Topics covered may include anxiety, depression, stress, and fear as well as hedonically positive emotional states. Prerequisite: ACN/HCS 6346. (3-0) R (2016-02-05 21:31:42)