AMS3326 - The United States in the Twenty-First Century

AMS 3326 The United States in the Twenty-First Century (3 semester credit hours) An exploration of twenty-first century conditions and realities of the U.S., including economic crisis and sociocultural changes. The course also examines the roles of the U.S. in the world community. (3-0) T (2016-03-17 10:57:26)