SOC3333 - Religion in Society

SOC 3333 Religion in Society (3 semester credit hours) This course examines how world religions in U.S. society help shape the views and behaviors of the public as they participate in education, the economy, government, healthcare, and other social institutions. The course also examines social challenges presented by the diversity of religion. (3-0) R (2016-03-07 17:01:12)