SOC 4387 - Religion in International Development

SOC 4387 Religion in International Development (3 semester credit hours) This course examines how world religions play a role in social, economic, and political development, and how they contribute to policies relevant to international development. (3-0) R (2016-03-07 17:02:10)