FIN 6370 - The Theory of Finance and Its Applications

FIN 6370  The Theory of Finance and Its Applications (3 semester credit hours) A survey of financial theories and their application to various financial decisions and issues. Topics will include the theory of portfolio choices, asset pricing, derivative pricing, asymmetric information theories, and firm financing issues. Prerequisite: FIN 6310 or FIN 6350 or instructor consent required. (3-0) Y

https://catalog.utdallas.edu/2014/graduate/courses/fin6370