University Libraries

Eugene McDermott Library and the Callier Library support the research, instruction, and community service programs of the University by providing access to information in both print and electronic forms. The libraries consist of over two and a half million items, including more than 71,000 electronic journals, 1 million electronic books, and thousands of media, microforms, and maps.

Callier Library is a satellite facility dedicated to supporting the Callier Center for Communication Disorders and the Center for BrainHealth in downtown Dallas. It specializes in materials on speech and hearing disorders.

McDermott Library, located on the UT Dallas campus, is not only a federal depository library, it is also a Texas state depository. Government documents are available in a variety of formats. Other important documents and research collections are housed within The Special Collections Department. Collections include the Wineburgh Philatelic Research Library, the Louise B. Belsterling Collection, the History of Aviation Collection, and the UT Dallas Archives. The Library also has a rare books collection. Distance learners can access the ever-expanding digital collection through the library's website. Current students, staff, and faculty have unlimited access to electronic resources such as databases, e-journals, e-books, and audiobooks. McDermott is also developing Treasures, a digital institutional repository to showcase the research and scholarship conducted at the University.

Staff members at both locations provide active support for all the people they serve. Librarians consistently hold class and individual instruction on the use of the library, how to conduct research and how to develop information literacy skills. Both McDermott and Callier Library offer students with disabilities a range of services to encourage their independent research.

If McDermott and Callier do not have requested items, library customers can utilize the Interlibrary Loan Service. This service provides students with books or articles from a network of major libraries.
