ATCM2301 - Computer Imaging

ATCM 2301 Computer Imaging (3 semester credit hours) Introduction to digital image-making and manipulation using contemporary software applications. Graphic, photographic, and computational tools and methods are presented and applied to art and design problems. Computer images are prepared for multiple delivery environments, including the Internet, games, animation, and others. (0-3) S