

ATCM4388 - Political Communication

ATCM 4388 Political Communication (3 semester credit hours) This course examines political communication from different perspectives, including topics such as how audiences make sense of political messages, how the mass media shape perceptions and attitudes toward politics and politicians, or how political issues are communicated in the mass media. (3-0) T