ENTP 7301 - Technology, Innovation and Entrepreneurship

ENTP 7301 Technology, Innovation and Entrepreneurship (3 semester credit hours) This seminar introduces and examines contemporary research topics in technology, innovation, and entrepreneurship. Students will be exposed to a broad survey of theoretical foundation from disciplinary fields such as economics, sociology, and contemporary works to conduct research in technology, innovation, and entrepreneurship. Prerequisites: International Management Studies PhD majors only and instructor consent required. (3-0) T