

NATS2330 - The Basis of Evolution

NATS 2330 The Basis of Evolution (3 semester credit hours) Wide-ranging discussions of the unifying theory of the origin and modification through time of all organisms. Pertinent history, the fossil record, evolution as concerns the human experience, processes and mechanisms and a look at the future are major topics. This course is specifically designed for non-majors and may not satisfy degree requirements in the School of Natural Science and Mathematics. (3-0) S