

ATCM2343 - Emerging Media Art Histories

ATCM 2343 Emerging Media Art Histories (3 semester credit hours) Students in this course will understand emerging media art through a historical lens that relates media histories, interdisciplinary pioneers, and creative practices that blur the boundaries between art and technology. Emerging Media Art Histories includes a survey of artists, engineers, mathematicians, and philosophers, and their interactive genres that pushed the boundaries of traditional art practices from the twentieth century to the present. (3-0) Y